Representative Fontaine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I rise with strong reservations on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This bill primarily affects property crimes and takes the repeat-offender status away from those kinds of crimes. As a police officer I dealt with this many, many times where we had people that have gone out and habitually burglarized homes or have stolen cars all to fuel their drug habit or whatever the case may be. And I feel that we need to have that repeat-offender status for those kinds of offenses because of the fact that we do have these people that are just habitual criminals. Thank you."

"Thank you, very much. Not to follow my brother from another mother, but also with reservations. And my concerns are similar to his, but also I think this will blow a huge hole in the State's budget by allowing sentences that have already been running, or are being served to now come under this law. I just have a lot of concerns. Let's see what the Senate does."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I will vote with reservations and would like the words of the Representative from Maui."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Very briefly, I think the prior speaker was talking about a different bill. This has to do with consecutive versus concurrent imprisonment terms, not the repeat offender statute. So when a judge issues their sentence, they either say that the terms, if there are multiple charges and multiple convictions, are either going to be served consecutively or concurrently. That's the discretion of the judge. They have that discretion."

"This doesn't take away that discretion. But what this does say is that when the judge doesn't make it clear which one he's deciding, or she's deciding, then at that point the presumption is that it will be concurrent. And this is because for 20 years, that's how everything operated. Nobody knew any differently. So anytime it was silent, they always thought it was concurrent."

"However two years ago, somebody looked at the books and said, 'Hey, that's not really what the statute says.' And so two years ago, we actually had to figure it out. We passed a law that worked prospectively. This actually is going for retrospective. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, with all due respect to the words of the Majority Leader, please note my reservations."
